Here, a comfortable parking lot with a playground and a small 12th century church of the XII indicate the beginning of this run.

Winding in the wood, the path is well signalled, with many resting points where observing the pyramids. And many didactic charts illustrating the formation of this as interesting as particular

The greatest of these pyramids reaches 30 meters of height, with a base diameter of about 8 meters and the top surmounted by a rock with the diameter of about 4 meters.
